History: 2051, location: SATACIUS, a long abandoned planet. The cruiser Agano was on patrol when she was attacked and hit by the Confederacy. It was destroyed, but part of the crew was saved. They left the planet in a rescue shuttle. However, the shuttle was damaged and could not take off. The crew members decided to hide in the depths of the planet. Ancient ruins have been found on the planet. They soon managed to find one of the generators that powered the ship. But the generators were damaged and they had to use them as fuel. They spent the next 10 months repairing generators and doing various explorations of the ruins of the ancient city.
