Download.com, Softonic.com and many more..Q: Open external URL in a browser and navigate to a specific page I am building a web app in PHP that is capable of embedding a webpage into it. I have this working on a single page using PHP sessions, but when I'm going to embed the page into another web page, it's not working. The issue is that the page has an iframe with some parameters that allows it to link to an external page, but it's not being forwarded to the external page. Instead, the PHP is just executing inside the page. How can I fix this?
