A: Use a Frame as the parent of the text and it will add the border. import tkinter as tk root = tk.Tk() root.resizable(0,0) text = tk.Text(root, borderwidth=5, relief='sunken', borderwidth=5) text.pack(padx=10, pady=5) frame = tk.Frame(root, bd=5) frame.pack(side='bottom', fill='both') text.config(bg='light green', font=('Helvetica', 30), fg='black', bd=10) text.pack(expand=True, fill='x') root.mainloop() The way the border is applied to the text widget in Tk without a frame is to set a bg on the text widget. It then automatically pulls the bg down to the next widget. A: There are two ways for setting the border of the Text widget: If you want a bg-property for the Text widget, then set it on the Text widget. This option is also true if you assign a style to the Text widget. text = Entry(toplevel, bd=5, relief='sunken', bg='white', bd=5) text.pack() text.pack_propagate(0) If you want an entire border-property for the Text widget, then you have to assign the border property to the Text widget, which is equivalent to: text.config(borderwidth=5) text.pack() text.pack_propagate(0) If you want to use the border-properties from the Entry widget
