The problem is that when I insert a new string I want to update the minimum value of the list. A: Well, have you tried Collections.min()? Returns the object with the lowest value in the specified collection (according to the specified comparator), or null if the specified collection contains no elements. Edit: If you insist on using your own algorithm (that's not OK - if you try to reinvent the wheel you're hurting yourself and probably will find some problems later), I suggest using a queue. The queue has a minimum() method which is exactly what you need. A: You have to keep track of the minimum in some way. Try a Queue: private Comparator comparator = new Comparator() { @Override public int compare(String o1, String o2) { return o1.compareTo(o2); } };
