Zimeldine was generally well tolerated, and improvements in depression were obtained in all but one patient. Seventy percent of the depressed patients were improved within 7 days of treatment initiation. Sixty-seven percent maintained improvement by the end of 6 months. Zimeldine was compared to imipramine and dothiepin in a randomized double-blind study. Similar clinical and laboratory effects were observed for all three drugs. The zimeldine dose required was less than half that of the imipramine dose. No major side effects or laboratory abnormalities were observed. It is concluded that zimeldine is an effective and well-tolerated antidepressant for depression in the geriatric population.The invention relates to a universal connecting and positioning system having a support for connecting various devices to a user. A wide variety of different types of connecting and positioning devices are known for connecting various medical and surgical tools to a user. Such connecting and positioning devices may include mechanisms having a biasing force to bias the associated device to a desired position. Although many of the known connecting and positioning devices are suitable for their particular intended purposes, there is a continuing need in the art for a universal connecting and positioning system having a biasing force for connecting various medical and surgical devices to a user.Xiaomi has been rumored to launch a Mi 4 flagship phone in June alongside its next generation Mi TV and Mi Band fitness tracker. The device should be a successor to the Mi 4, and the company's latest flagship has now been leaked online through a video and an image showing a couple of the phone's features. The leaked video briefly shows the device, showing off the slim profile and medium-sized 5-inch display, but it's
