How do we regard the touch of God? A theology of touch June 29, 2019 How do we regard the touch of God? A theology of touch – Part 2 The touch of God is something that needs to be apprehended. It is something to feel – something to inhabit. It requires an openness and something found in the atmosphere of the God who dwells in us. When we come to God by way of the Holy Spirit, we learn to appreciate the sacredness of God's touch in our daily walk. It's in His touch that we become aware of God in us. It's in His touch that we understand more fully that God is not only a person but a human God in the image of human beings. In God's touch we find the point of God's creation. One could argue that it is primarily in a mysterious touch of God that we become aware of ourselves. The touch of God in us removes all that is self from us. All of our sin is washed away by the touch of God in us. The touch of God can be a long, long process of awakening. As we allow the Holy Spirit into our lives, as we allow the Spirit of God to change us, we begin to understand that it is through the Spirit of God that God's healing touches become possible. One could say that it is primarily in a mysterious touch of God that we become aware of ourselves. The touch of God in us removes all that is self from us. All of our sin is washed away by the touch of God in us. APPROVED: ix-49 (485)
