Any recommendations on software to do all this? A: If you're already working with After Effects, you could also consider Premiere Pro. There's a "Video Effects" panel in the Effects Collection, which contains most of the plugins you're looking for. Most of them are free. If you're a fan of Colorista, the alternative interface for After Effects, the best way to do exactly what you're wanting to do is to find a place that will sell you the Premium version of the VDMX plugin for After Effects. You can read a bit more about it here: If you want something more straightforward, you can look at Uniblue SpeedupMyPC. It's not Free, and you probably don't want to buy it if you're not yet familiar with the program and workflow. But it has the most extensive list of features of all the programs you mentioned, and it'll give you a good way to get started. Q: Does Firestore have a method to return an array of values as opposed to a list? If I have the following structure in Firestore, can I get an array of the names from the collection? "team-profiles": { "-L6KK4vHx3LCCSNx54a": { "nome": "Anthony", "cognome": "Ventoso", "team_name": "Team 1" }, "-L6KK6J5Lo3K7MSrQU7a": { "nome": "John", "cognome": "Berti", "team_name": "Team 2" }, "-L6KK7PW0s3K4y9Gp0st": { "nome": "Craig", "cognome": "Johansen", "team_name": "Team 3" } } I need a way to get the array with the team names, but the documentation only mentions querying with lists. I am trying to get the

No, it's not the middle class who will bear all the burdens. It's the 99% that will bear all the burdens. To a degree, we accept this because we know how badly the companies are running, but that doesn't excuse the fact that the middle class is bearing the brunt of the problem and the pain. This is not sustainable. It's time to share the pain. And it's time to try something else.
