A: The exact of your issue can be many things. First of all, the server you are sending the request to may not have a certificate configured. This will result in a 403 error. The most common solution to this problem is to use a wildcard certificate for *.blogspot.com Try *.blogspot.com and make sure you are using a wildcard (my SSL session reports 2) However, this may not be the issue with your problem. I can replicate your issues. Please update your question. I can help more if I understand what is going on. Unfortunately, I am on an iPhone, so I have no way to test with your issue. The zero-sum tussle between economics professor and TV personality won't end anytime soon, with millions of viewers across the world tuning in to see the latest clash of the "Mr. Spock"s. Mr. Krugman, an ardent supporter of Democrat Barack Obama, recently penned an opinion piece in the New York Times in which he said the president's re-election is "an utter imperative" for the nation, and urged readers to support Mr. Obama. On "Fox & Friends" Wednesday, Mr. Barnicle criticized the columnist for appearing on Fox News, a cable network "that at best watches Fox" before turning its channel over to defense contractor-funded, neoconservative political commentator Glenn Beck. "I think it's wrong, and I think when Paul Krugman and I and others -- and Bill Moyers, who's another great liberal -- do this it changes the nature of the exchange because, if you're in the world of the mainstream media, you're not going to listen to what we say," said Mr. Barnicle. "But if you can get three, four, five, 10 million people to tune in, I think you send a powerful message to the rest of the country." Mr. Barnicle continued, "You know, there's an old saying in journalism that you don't have to agree to have an opinion. I just think that's the way it works when you're in the broadsheet newspaper and you're just sitting on the left, and you're watching what you see on the right, and you're not calling into question what you see, and that's the way it's going to be." Mr. Krugman went on a tirade on "Fox News Sunday" in July 2010, accusing the Republican party of trying to destroy the 6d1f23a050
