Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a sheet material storing container for storing a sheet material, such as a stored banknote, a ticket, a voucher, a check, a bank passbook, a certification card, or a credit card. 2. Description of the Related Art A sheet material storing container, having a transparent front plate covering an opening of the container and a transparent rear plate covering a storing position of a sheet material, is known in the art. It is necessary for such a sheet material storing container to have a front plate and a rear plate that can be opened and closed so that the front plate can be opened and closed as well as the rear plate when a sheet material is stored and removed from the container. In the conventional sheet material storing container, however, the front plate and the rear plate are engaged with each other when the front plate is closed. Therefore, when the sheet material is pulled out from the container, in particular when it is pulled out forcibly, the front plate and the rear plate are opened in a state that they are engaged with each other, so that they cannot be opened smoothly. The present invention has been achieved to overcome the above problem. It is an object of the invention to provide a sheet material storing container capable of smoothly opening a front plate and a rear plate in a state that they are engaged with each other. To attain the above object, the invention provides a sheet material storing container comprising first and second stacked sheet material holding plates having first and second predetermined plate surfaces and first and second engaging surfaces, respectively, opposing to each other. The first sheet material holding plate and the second sheet material holding plate are disposed in a state that the first engaging surface is engaged with the second engaging surface. The first engaging surface is engaged with the second engaging surface in a state that the first and second sheet material holding plates are closed. The sheet material storing container further comprises first and second opening/closing cover plates that are provided at first and second intermediate plate portions in a direction in which the sheet material holding plates are stacked. The first opening/closing cover plate has first and second engaging surfaces and is displaced, when the sheet material holding plates are opened, between an engagement position at which the first engaging surface is engaged with the second engaging surface and a disengagement position at which the first engaging surface is disengaged from the second engaging surface. The second opening/closing cover plate has first and second engaging surfaces and is displaced, when the sheet material holding plates are opened, between an engagement position at which the first engaging surface is engaged with the second engaging surface and a disengagement position at which the first engaging surface is disengaged from the second engaging surface. In the sheet material storing container having the above configuration, when the first and second opening/closing cover plates are displaced between the engagement position and the disengagement position, and when the first engaging surface of the first opening/closing cover plate is engaged with the second engaging surface of the second opening/closing cover plate, respectively, in the engagement position, the first and second sheet material holding plates can be opened in the state that the first and second sheet material holding plates are engaged with each other.
