Waves V9r2 With NLS Plug-Ins For Windows Free Download

you are welcome. i have tried all the fixes including the suggestions on the waves help forum. fixing the settings for a plugin and trying to force a reload will not work. reinstalling the plugin will work for a short time but then it starts behaving the same way again. i have followed several tutorials on this issue and the only thing that has really helped is removing the plugins from my songs in pso5 and starting over with a clean slate. the plugins are supposed to be cleaned up at the beginning of a song. all of the plugins were cloned from the original pso 4 version when i first got this computer. most of the plugins have been fine with me until the last two weeks. i have tried the various other fixes for the r plugins including repairing the registry. i have tried to bypass the waveshell and load the plugins directly from the plugins folder. i have tried moving the plugins folder to a different folder. i have tried to delete the cookies and cache on my browser. i have tried removing all waveshell ck files on the computer. i have tried using a different browser to access the internet. i have removed all plugins and started over and done all the standard fixes for the plugins. this computer has been upgraded recently so i have the latest drivers and software from the manufacturer installed. like i said, i dont like the support team at waves, but i never had any issues until recently. i have used wavesshell (an app that lets you load plugins from the browser directly) for years to load plugins without any issues. my computer was working fine up until a week ago. now the plugins are acting up in all kinds of odd ways, including causing a computer freeze and crashing my daw. i have the newest drivers and software from the manufacturer installed. i am not sure what other techs have suggested to fix this issue. i have tried all the fixes on the waves help forum without success. i have removed all plugins and started over with a clean slate. i have been using wavesshell for years with no issues. 5ec8ef588b
