Alonso had not previously tested at Monza in 2010 or 2011, but in 2014 he drove in Friday practice and again in the post-race test on Saturday after his McLaren team suffered an engine failure in Friday practice. The test will take place on a new circuit, with Alonso driving on Tuesday October 16, with FP1 and qualifying to be held on Thursday October 18, and the race on Friday October 19. "I'd like to say'see you in Monza', but the truth is that I will be there just to check out the new circuits, so maybe you can meet me on Tuesday and we can drink some Monza beer together," Alonso said. "Monza is the most exciting circuit I've driven. I've been racing there since I was a kid, I've been on the podium, I've won there, I've won races in the past two years. So it's a special place. "The test is three days and the first two will be more or less the
