A colour version was released in 1983 for the Atari ST and Amstrad CPC. The object of Net is to control small characters on a screen, and guide them through an obstacle course towards a goal by manipulating the edges of the screen. Gameplay Net is a game where the player must guide blocks of differing colours around the edge of a square screen. By doing this, the player can shape the blocks into configurations that allow them to navigate the blocks in order to complete the level. The game is played in four distinct game states. In the first state, the blocks are set up to form a maze in which the player must move through. When the player clears the maze
