Personally, I haven't found Adobe to do more than I know about Skills I can do on my own. I'm not a wannabe designer; I'm a non-designer. I just don't have the mojo to really create stuff. Anyway, I love the software. I can work with it all day long and I'm happy with the results. To me, this is an important distinction. I don't think ANY software is magical. Photoshop, Illustrator, even InDesign. They are just tools for creators. Sure, the community of designers is pretty amazing. I'd like to upgrade from CS6 to the latest Creative Cloud, but i'm not sure if i have the right version for a Mac, i have Windows but my ubuntu seems to have a thing about running these updated versions and not letting me run them :/ Nice review but after upgrading to LR5.2 RC I think performance is better than with LR4. Working on a project with 1500 D800 NEFs my impression is that the smart previews increase speed while working in the Developer mode - in Lib. mode however everything slows because the JPEG previews are used. So far I am not sure how the Jpegs are used as previews when you have the smart previews (DNGs) available. But have to say that I am happy with 5.2 RC although I will say bye-bye to LR the day they make it part of CC.
